Overview of Production of Recordings and Digital Music Sales in 2016

In 2016, the total production value of recorded music (audio and music videos) decreased 3% from the previous year to 245.7 billion yen while unit production posted a year-on-year decline of 5% to 213 million units. On the other hand, sales of digital music rose 12% from the previous year to 52.9 billion yen, marking the third consecutive year-on-year increase. As a result, the production value of recorded music and digital music sales decreased 1% to 298.5 billion yen.

Audio Recordings

In terms of audio recordings, unit production declined 5% to 161.19 million units and decreased 3% to 177.7 billion yen on a value basis from the previous year. Specifically, unit production and value of CD albums declined 7% to 104.65 million units and 5% to 132.0 billion yen, respectively. Unit production of CD singles declined 1% to 54.57 million units but the value of CD singles increased 3% to 42.9 billion yen, marking the first year-on-year increase in value in four years. The composition of domestic and international recorded music was 89% and 11% (versus 87% and 13% in the previous year) on a value basis, as the percentage of domestic recorded music is further rising. Moreover, unit production and value of vinyl discs jumped 21% and 24%, respectively, as unit production and value rose sharply for the third consecutive year.

Music Videos

Production of music videos decreased 4% to 51.79 million units with a value of 68.0 billion yen, a 5% decrease. Specifically, unit production and value of music DVDs declined 4% to 41.91 million units and 8% to 43.5 billion yen, respectively. Unit production of music Blu-ray Discs declined 4% year-on-year to 9.88 million units and value was virtually the same as in the previous year at 24.4 billion yen. As a result, overall unit production and value of music videos declined from the previous year.

Digital Music

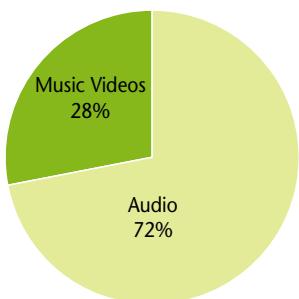

Digital music sales increased 12% to 52.9 billion yen on a value basis, marking the third consecutive year-on-year increase. Specifically, single tracks declined 8% year-on-year on a unit basis to 105.83 million downloads and 8% in terms of value to 17.5 billion yen, as sales on both a unit and value basis declined from the previous year. Although albums decreased 1% on a unit basis to 8.37 million downloads, the value of sales increased 4% over the previous year to 9.6 billion yen. Subscription services continued to record growth and achieved a steep 61% increase in terms of value to 20 billion yen from the previous year. Regarding the composition of services in digital music sales, subscription services made up 38% of sales (26% in the previous year) versus 33% of sales for single tracks (40% in the previous year). This marks the first time that sales of subscription services have surpassed sales of single tracks and subscription services accounted for the highest percentage of digital music sales.
